Garden Coffees Next Tuesday

Garden enthusiasts are promised a rewarding day Tuesday, June 13, from 9:30 a.m. to noon, at the second of two Garden Coffees sponsored by the Andover Garden Club and open to the public.

Two of Andover's loveliest gardens will be shown at the peak of their blooming season. Mrs. Joseph Myatt, 193 Highland rd., will open her rose gardens and plant room and Mrs. Irving E. Rogers, 51 Sunset Rock rd., will open her garden with its pool and cabanas.

Graduates Go On To College

A total of 119, out of 182 seniors in the high school graduating class, will attend schools and colleges beyond the secondary level.

Guidance Director William Igoe reported this week that 63 of the graduates will attend four-year, degree-granting institutions — 34.6 percent of the class.

Fifty-six will attend junior colleges, business, technical or professional schools — representing 30.8 percent of the class.

The over-all increase is 1.6 percent above the number of students in the 1960 class who attended these various institutions. Mr. Igoe reports that the increase is especially noticeable in the number attending professional and two-year school category.

In addition to these two groups, 10 have their admission to a school or college pending; six will attend prep schools; 12 will enter the Armed Forces; 18 have secured full-time employment and another 17 have full-time jobs pending.

In Mr. Igoe's summary, it was noted that eight members of the graduating class have received scholarships, from colleges of their choice, valued at $24,120. Additionally, scholarships valued at $25,550 were rejected because they were not the institutions chosen by the students. Awarding the scholarships were the following: Tufts, University of Massachu-

No Action On Recreation Job

No action was taken Tuesday night on the appointment of a recreation director for the town. The Selectmen met in executive session prior to their regular meeting. Following the public meeting, Chairman Eugene A. Bernardin Jr., in reply to a question, said there had been no action by the board. The subject did not come up during the open meeting.

In other action, the Board appointed Paul MacMillan of Stoneham as welfare director for one year. The provisional appointment was authorized by Civil Service.

Also appointed was Miss Irene

Pink Gulls? You're OK

Now it's pink sea gulls. Well, red-necked ones anyway.

The guy who ordinarily sees pink elephants may be just a mite shook, when he sees a vivid-necked gull gracefully careening through the sky. And for that matter, those who never had a wee drop may think they're seeing "things" too. But fear not.

The Mass. Audubon Society is carrying out a scientific project that requires sea gulls to have

French Students Will Come Here

For the second year, Andover has an opportunity to take part in the Experiment in International Living.

This year, 10 students from France will live in Andover homes from Aug. 4 to Aug. 31. They range in ages from 18 to 23, and all but one are listed as students.

The young people live in Paris or its immediate vicinity.

Mrs. Charles A. Farrington, 19 Argyle st., is making local arrangements for the group.

She has pointed out that the five young men and five girls should be entertained by families in which there is at least one teen-ager — preferably 17 or older. Whether the local boy or girl is working for the summer makes no difference, she explained.

Mrs. Farrington said she hopes that many local families will make application to her for the opportunity to take one of the French students into their homes. "We're

FINANCE COMMITTEE WANTS EXPLANATION

Finance Committee Secretary Phillips B. Marsden has asked that the Committee's position relative to personnel appointments or policies in the town be explained.

Noting the recent news stories and editorial comment indicate that Finance Committee members approved of a candidate for a position, he said the Committee does not ever take an official position on appointments.

Mr. Marsden said individuals on the Committee might have been asked for their private opinions, but that such matters do not come under scrutiny by the Committee in its official capacity.

Cub Pack 74 Held Outing

Last Saturday was a gala day for the members of Cub Pack 74, of West Parish, for on that day the young lads and members of their families journeyed to Benson's Animal Farm where they enjoyed their annual outing.

Earlier in the spring, the boys sold boxes of pansies, which helped to defray the cost of the outing. Tommy Christopher sold 114 boxes; Craig Russell and Wayne Thompson each sold 112 boxes.

Box lunches were enjoyed at noon time and a Chimpanzee Show in the afternoon delighted the group. Cub Master William Russell and his assistants, Leland Luntz, Alfred Kayworth and Edward Thompson, planned the affair.

Peter Stewart, who has been a freshman at Dartmouth College N.H. for the past year is now spending the summer at his parent's home on Virginia rd.

$169,371.00 CASH!

Speaking of CASH, what does the CO-OP mean by the slightly astronomical figure of $169,371.00?

This is the actual amount of CASH which the CO-OP has paid out to its customer-members during the last ten years. This is not a promise. This is not scrip. This is HARD CASH!

This enormous sum—over a sixth of a million dollars in CASH—is made up of two parts. Over $147,000 is CASH refunds on purchases made at the CO-OP. Over $22,000 represents dividends to our numerous local shareholders.

NO retail business in this vicinity can even approach this record of saving CASH for its customers.

If you are interested in saving REAL money (not scrip) the place to shop for food is the store which is run exclusively in the shoppers' interests — the store which is locally owned and locally controlled — the store where your canniest friends and neighbors save money. That store is the CO-OP.

Ask our Mary Angus to explain to you how the CO-OPERATIVE system of doing business can help you save real money, and lots of it, during 1961.

Meeting About TB

June 22 In Danvers

One of the most critical public health meetings in a decade will be held at the King's Grant Motel in Danvers June 22, under the co-sponsorship of all the tuberculosis associations in Essex County.

Key public health and medical persons in the County have this week been invited to the meeting for a two-fold purpose:

A self-evaluation, by top professionals and laymen, of current tuberculosis control efforts;

A discussion of practical measures that can realistically be undertaken, in each city and town of the county, to bring TB under final control.

Co-sponsoring the Conference

On the Elimination of Tuberculosis are the Essex County Health Association, the Lawrence Tuberculosis and Health Association, the Lynn Tuberculosis League and the Newburyport Tuberculosis and Health Association.

their necks painted. Seems the Society wants to find out where the birds migrate, how closely the flocks stay together.

Of major benefit will be a determination as to where the gulls come from that make such a nuisance of themselves at Logan International Airport - with the possible result that safety measures can finally be taken against the huge flocks of birds that endanger the lives of passengers on the airplanes.

The study, according to the Audubon Society, is based on the premise that adult gulls remain along the coast where they nest, although the young gulls are known to migrate considerable distances.

Dye will be applied to the necks of nesting gulls at six key nesting areas in the northeast coast, in the beginning of the three-year project.

At the Isle of Shoals, red dye will be used; green is the color for nesting gulls along the North Shore; yellow, Boston Harbor; blue, Muskeget Island; black, Elizabeth Islands in Nantucket Sound; and brown-orange, Kent Island, New Brunswick.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Go Slowly

Efforts are currently underway to gain revision of the so-called Blue Laws, under which most business has to shut up tighter than the proverbial drum on Sundays and holidays.

Andover is not specially involved in the hue and cry raised by resort-area business people; but we do have an interest in any revision of the law.

While it may likely be harmful to resort businesses, the present law does strictly control the opening of business houses on Sunday. In efforts to change the law for the benefit of resort areas, we should carefully watch the wording of the amendments to be certain that abuses are not allowed to creep in. Over-emphasis on Sunday opening, for example, might easily open the door to other businesses, which might wish to stay open in towns like Andover, where there is no resort business at all.

It would not be desirable to find, for example, that under a revised law any retail shop whatsoever could open its doors on Sunday.

Thus, while relief may be needed for shop owners in resort communities, we must be careful not to liberalize the law excessively, to our own eventual detriment.

Congratulations

A pleasant annual duty occurs this week, as we officially proffer our congratulations to the graduates of our local schools.

To all of you - we wish you every success in your chosen activity, whether it be full-time employment or advanced schooling.

You're making a sharp transition - from the relatively sheltered, organized activity of a school to the give-and-take of business or commerce, or to the very different academic atmosphere of college or university.

As you look back on the year 1961, in later years, it's our wish that you'll be able to truthfully say "I wouldn't change anything, if I had the chance".

About 75 friends and neighbors of Miss Elizabeth Goodhue gathered Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. Y. Hincks, where a shower was given to the bride-elect, whose marriage to Claude M. Fuess is shortly to be celebrated.

Augustus Remington and family from Newtonville visited in town Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Allen.

Exeter beat Andover in track Memorial Day, 58-37. William Bingham broke his own dual meet record and the world's interscholastic record in the half-mile. Eddie Mahan, who played a nine-inning baseball game in the morning against Harvard, took second place in both the 100 and 220.

Punchard defeated Wilmington, 20-18, Friday. The beautiful new banking rooms at the Andover Savings Bank are now in use.

The stranger who hired a team from Morrissey's stable in 1908, and failed to return it, and for whom the police of several cities and towns have been searching over the three-year period, was discovered in Haverhill this week.

Mill windows which were ablaze with light a year ago this month are now dimmed, as the unemployment crisis continues to grow more severe. The third shift has been eliminated completely, and only part of the second shift is working. The employment prospects looked bright just a year ago.

Selectman J. Everett Collins will be guest conductor at the Pops a week from tomorrow night, at the annual Federation Night. The N. E. Federation of Men's Glee Clubs will sing six numbers, with Collins directing.

Thirty-one children received first Holy Communion Sunday morning at St. Augustine's Church. The pastor, Fr. Austin, spoke briefly to the youngsters.

The Nursing Committee of the Red Cross is concerned about the care of children's teeth in town.

Many show the need of immediate attention, but can not afford the care, according to a survey just completed. The Chapter has given some money for this purpose, and other funds are needed too.

Ranking representatives of all branches of the Armed Forces will attend the Phillips Academy commencement, and help dedicate the new memorial gymnasium Saturday noon.

The Boosters will fete the track team of Punchard High School Wednesday evening. The team took the Essex County Class B championship and placed second in the state meet.

Lt. Wallace M. Haselton has been recalled to active duty, and will report soon to the office of Naval intelligence in Washington. Troop 73 of South Church marked its 25th anniversary with a charter review and re-registration.

About 30 percent of the graduating class at Punchard will attend a degree-granting institution next fall.

The town's new electrically-driven pump has been installed at Haggett's Pond. It can pump about 2,500 gallons a minute, as can the present steam pump. With both in service, this gives the town double the capacity that has been available.

CAPITOL COMMENT

By YOUR CONGRESSMAN
BRAD MORSE

With the Soviet Union resting on its Laotian and Cuban laurels, there has been some apprehension on Capitol Hill that the Kennedy-Khrushchev meeting was premature. In spite of Congressional misgivings, however, the President went to Vienna with our nation's Godspeed, and the determination that the Kremlin leader be made to realize that we act from a position of unity and strength. . . . Former President Eisenhower last week best summed up United States sentiment when he said, "As the President attempts to preserve our freedoms, as he seeks to strengthen peace, as he confers with foreign leaders, whether friendly or hostile, he has the hopeful and sympathetic good will of all loyal Americans, regardless of party."

Incidentally, I was privileged to have lunch with General Eisenhower last week here in the Nation's Capital and was delighted to see the hale and youthful "elder statesman" in such obvious good health. From his eight years' experience in guiding our country through choppy economic and diplomatic waters, he sounded a keynote for the nation when he urged, "steadiness of leadership, care in planning, prudence in word, firmness in deed."

Our Fifth District reflects this thoughtful concern over the direction of the United States. When I was at home last week, I frequently heard the common-sense conviction expressed that when our government says a thing, it must mean it. In many conversations I found that most people share my belief that the Congress must not settle down to "business as usual"; that we must come to grips with the basic problems which threaten the peace and jeopardize our freedoms. I cannot over-emphasize the tremendous value your thinking on the issues has for me in my work here in Washington. In order to keep in closer touch with the people of the Fifth District, I plan to hold regular office hours in each of the District's 29 cities and towns as soon as Congress adjourns. Meanwhile, I am making trips home as frequently as the legislative load in Washington permits. Your letters are invaluable in filling in the gaps between these visits.

Memo: To men between 17 and 21 interested in any of the four U.S. service academies - I am holding competitive Civil Service examinations at the new Lowell Post Office July 10. All applications must be received at my Lowell office, 15 Kearney Square, on or before June 15. All appointments will be made on a strictly non-partisan basis. Full particulars are yours by stopping by my Lowell office, or by phoning Glenview 8-1221 in Lowell.

What this country needs is a good non-Cuban cigar. Recently, I was astounded to learn that despite our embargo on Cuban sugar, we still are importing cigars manufactured in Cuba at an annual rate of $4.5 million American dollars for Castro's treasury. On top of this, we also still permit a preferential tariff duty on Cuban cigars - $1.27 per pound plus 8 1/2 per cent of total value, while other nations sending cigars to our shores must pay $1.91 per pound plus 10 1/2 per cent of total value. I have written the Chairman of the U. S. Tariff Commission asking for action to curb this American subsidy of a totalitarian government.

What Our Readers Say—

To the Editor of the Townsman: "Contrary to the Townsman's opinion that a fire station will be needed in West Andover soon, are the following facts.

"The efficiency of a fire department is the most important thing in fire control.

"It is rare that a fire is noticed immediately upon its inception. "The distance from a fire station has only slight bearing on fire insurance rates.

The distance from a fire station has no bearing upon life insurance rates.

"Soon fire fighters will cost us at least $6,500 a year each.

"Six minutes traveling time is perhaps normal for most fire engines to reach fires, perhaps its less than average.

"Thus we see that, far from a new fire station being needed in West Andover, relatively small investments to further increase the already excellent efficiency of our fire department shall do more than this proposed enlargement of government costs."

The June meeting of the Ballardvale Homemakers Extension Club will be held Monday, June 19, at the summer home of Mrs. Roy Brown at York Beach, Maine. A Reminder

The free films which the library loans to groups may be borrowed until June 15, after which time there will be nothing on hand until the autumn programs begin. Three color travel films are available at present, all on the subject of rivers - one in northern Quebec, Fraser's river, and one about the Niagara Falls.

Children's Notables

Now that the adult reading public has been made aware of the Notable Books published in 1960, the nation's librarians have announced a list of 41 titles "Notable Children's Books of 1960. The Book Evaluation Committee of the Children's Services Division of the American Library Association made use of the findings of 22 libraries in representative cities in compiling the list; the chairman of the national committee is Marian Schroether, a children's librarian of the Waukegan Public Library in Illinois.

Miss Schroether feels that there is a growing interest on the part of American publishers in the successful foreign books, and five translations of foreign books and an Australian book are included, with emphasis on picture books.

Here are a few of the titles which may be borrowed from the Memorial Hall Library: ABC, Munari; America Moves Forward, Johnson; Baboushka Abd The Three Kings, Robbins; Bedtime for Frances, Hoban; The Challenge Of The Sea, Clarke; The Cricket In Times Square, Thompson; Devil's Hill, Chaucer; A Dog In Barkham Street, Stolz; Dwarf Long-Nose, Hauff; A Fruit Is Born, Gulcher; Going Barefoot, Fisher; Green Gods And Heroes, Graves; The Iliad Of Homer, Picard; Island Of The Blue Dolphins, O'Dell; The Little Tiny Rooster, Lipkind; Meet The Austins, L'Engle; Old Mother Hubbard and her Dog, Galdone; Old Ramon, Schaefer; The Shaker Maker And The Elves, Grimm; The Sleeping Beauty, Grimm; The Singing Cave, Dillon; This Is Not A Sasek; The Walls of Windy City, Brayner and The World Of The Pharaohs, Baumann.

Miss Margaret Lane, Children's Librarian, plans to add others of the list to the library. Any book listed here may be reserved if it is out at the time a young person asks for it.

Miss Putnam

Word has been received at the library that Miss Miriam Putnam, the librarian, is enjoying her vacation in England; from her planned itinerary there is little time to send more than a greeting, but she is capturing the beauties of the countryside in colored slides, which will part of her next travel talk later in the year.

She has planned to go to Dorchester, Exeter, Devonshire, possibly Oxford, East Anglia, Bath, Somerset and has definite plans to visit London before she returns. Even a few extra trips may be accomplished before she leaves for home.

Art Book Added

An amazing new book has been added to the art collection of the library, "The Drawings of Jean Dubuffet", by Daniel Cordier, translated from the French by Cecily Mackworth. There are a hundred drawings, with thirteen additional designs and endpapers, especially created for this book by Dubuffet.

Dubuffet, a one-time wine merchant, did not take up painting until a seriousness until he was forty. In seeking a new expression that would be unique and satisfying, he turned to the creations of children, and of madmen. In their work he felt that there was a strange forwardness and fearlessness apparent in the traditional; he trained himself to see the world as a child would.

The drawings here are arranged according to subject matter, coordinated with Cordier's clarity of text.

Reaction to Dubuffet's painting is mixed, from rejection to admiration; but, as the artist explained, "I don't want to make people laugh, but to frighten them." For some readers he has succeeded in doing both. The book is ready for circulation.

Dandelions vanish, grass grows greener

Nothing can do more to turn a self-respecting lawn into a shambles than a bumper crop of dandelions like we're having right now.

BONUS® makes short work of these persistent pests. Knocks out other ugly weeds, too—like plantain, buckhorn.

At the same time, BONUS feeds grass a steady, protein-building diet. Result? Greener, thicker, stronger turf, unmarred by weeds.

Nice work for just half an hour. But that's all it takes to treat 5000 sq ft with double-duty BONUS and the precise Scotts Spreader. The time for BONUS is now!

A New Colonial Charm Comes to Andover's Main Street This Year

Jack Frost's on the spot sketch illustrates better than words ever could the transformation we will effect on Main Street this year. The basis for this lovely Colonial adaption is two existing dwellings — the homes of Dr. Hume and Dr. Stowers, between the Andover Historical Society building and the municipal parking area. The complex will be composed of smart Shops, Professional Offices and Garden-type Apartments. All will be executed in good taste, giving due respect to the traditional flavor of this fine New England Town.

South PTA Fair Successful Event

The South Elementary School Fun Fair, held last Saturday, was a huge success; and the children were thrilled at watching Dorothy Rankin's marionettes.

In the afternoon the softball game, with Lionel Goulet as umpire, was won by the mothers, 4-1. They were coached by Mrs. Franklyn Haggerty. Earl Simon's team, composed of the teachers were good losers. The fathers won in a softball game from their sons, by a score of 10-7.
